be assured that all the facts are carefully examined before

Nothing Sid McMath has said in this campaign justifies a thoughtful voter in substituting for the conservative member of the Senatorial team a man whose public statemennts proclaim him to be a State Socialist—far to the Left of the most liberal of Democrats.

McMath has developed two main issues in this campaign—both of them as phoney as a $3-bill. First, he criticizes McClellan for voting to restore the Tidelands to the coastal states, saying that the Senator's vote "cost the people of Arkansas 232 million dollars." But title to the Tidelands had been in undisputed possession of the coastal states for 100 years—until a powerthirsty federal government had its supreme court overturn that title on a 5-to-4 decision. Naturally the Congress, stirred by the anger of the coastal states, returned what had belonged to them for 100 years. How can you claim we "have lost 232 million dollars"

—when it never was anything but property stolen form our neighbor states, and returned? Some states have coastal property rights. Others have important mineral rights, such as bauxite—the aluminumproducing ore-in Arkansas. If you are going to counteenance stealing from one group of states now you can expect to have your own assets stolen in the future.

McMath's second charge against McClellan is that he "actively opposed the building of the steam generating plant at Ozark," making him "a willing and active agent of the power trusts."

This newspaper has always supported REA power, and fought for the extension of rural lines here in Hempstead count y But we, too, fought that "grab" at Ozark.
